A National Anthem sung at the Inauguration of the United Kingdom Alliance of Manchester, England.

God be in our suffering race
Strong Drink's dark curse to chase,
From off this earth!
Send it flings from above,
Truth, mercy, peace, and love;
Oh! let the spirit move,
And hope have birth!

Awhile the young world stood,
Beauteous, and very good,
In God's pure sight;
But fraud and folly strange,
Now good to evil change,
And in our hearts estrange
His holy light!

No deeper stream of woe
Can curse this world below,
Than Strong Drink's flood!
Where every wave is wrath,
And passion's stormy breath,
Bears in it to sin and death,
Through tears and blood!

Thrice cursed traffic! vile!
Where hope on Lucifal pile
Meet, dark despair!
Where men, for sordid gain,
Turn out disease and pain,
And spread their country's bane,
With awful share!

God help our suffering race
Strong Drink's black curse to chase
Away from earth.
May our Maine Law now prove
A sovereign law of love,
All through the nations move
And save the world!

Saturday Evening.

This night draws to a close the labors of the week. The hammer of the mechanic, the trowel of the mason and bricklayer, the brush of the painter, the saw and plane of the carpenter, the rattling of drays and omnibuses are arrested, ten thousand bargains in the different ramifications of trade are brought to a close.—Seamstresses, milliners, and tailors, have finished the various indispensable garments ordered, to be displayed on the coming Sabbath. The hatter's iron has grown cold, and the bootmaker has thrown down his last; the washer-woman has delivered her clean linen to her customers; the stevedore, the sailor, the laborer, and the slave have alike ended their labors for the week, and have received the wages for their hire. The book-keeper and clerk have left the counting-room—the labors of all, in fact, are drawn to a close, save that of the printer and the editor; for them there is no rest. What happiness and misery prevail of a Saturday night. The fair daughters of our opulent merchants are dressing for the opera or the theatre, as it is the fashionable night; our young gallants, too, are making their toilets to escort them, perhaps. Look into the thousand elegant drawing rooms of our city, and see the wealth and happiness that prevail.

Now the reverse of the picture. Look at that miserable, scantily furnished room, and see that young wife, with her infant sleeping at her bosom. She has wept bitterly. What is the cause? Her faithless husband, instead of coming home with his week's earnings, is pending at all the grog shops of the gaming table. How many poor lost creatures this night think of their happy homes they have left and lost! What a night is this among the mansions in our halls and palaces, and how different is it at sea, with the sailor! How do the sea whistlings of fishnet and beauty at our piers and theatres correspond with the misery and wretchedness of poverty and want.

Saturday night! Whites thousand preparations, various as they are numerous, are here at made for the morrow! And yet with ten thousand scenes before us, we cannot help indulging in the reflection that the beggar boy who lies, perhaps, on his pallet of straw, dreaming of the happiness of the coming Sabbath, sleeps as sweetly and as soundly as the rich man's little son, who, having undergone ablutions, and being robed in linen, sleeps on the couch of luxury. What a night, indeed, is Saturday night with all the world!—N. O. Picayune.

Culture of Asparagus.

Asparagus beds should be made early in this month. To cultivate it in the best manner, dig a trench three feet wide, and two feet deep. If it be under the south side of the garden wall or fence, it will come forward earlier in the spring.

Fill the trench to within about eight inches of the surface with manure, occasionally mixed with a layer of earth. Spread a thin layer of rich earth upon the top, and lay on the roots in their natural position, about nine inches apart; and fill up the remainder of the trench with rich, mellow soil, so that the crown of the roots may be two or three inches below the surface. If roots cannot be had, procure seeds and plant them about an inch deep, by drawing parallel lines in the soil, lengthwise with the bed, nine inches apart, and afterwards lines across the bed at the same distance asunder, and then dropping the seed at the intersections, and covering them with black mold. The bed should be kept free from weeds.

Till the shoots in asparagus beds may be cut off till the middle of June without injuring the roots; but after that time they should be allowed to grow up to seed, otherwise the roots will be weakened. A plantation of asparagus, with proper management, will continue productive many years.

A. G. Percival, the poet, is said to be in the employ of the American Mining company, at Greenes. He is too good a poet to be working in coal—but if he is philosopher enough to turn it into gold, he will doubtless find it more profitable than any amount of auriferous fancies.

"Sir," said a delinquent debtor on meeting his creditor one day, "I was obliged to let that note lie over last week; I am very sorry for it—I wish I had the pleasure of paying it—but I have not; so I'll do the best I can for you; if my next child is a boy, I'll name him after you."

The larva, which eats the pulpy part of the leaf of the celery, and sometimes of other fruit trees, is most effectually routed by a sprinkling of lime. Air-slacked lime, applied in the dew of the morning, usually accomplishes the desired purpose. Dry, water-slacked lime taken fresh is still better, being more caustic.

Roses and other hardy climbers, should, if already done, be tied neatly to their stakes or trellisses. Lateral shoots where not wanted for the next year, should be cut back to two or three eyes.

War Rumors from Washington.

The accounts from Washington for the last few weeks have increased that the administration is bent upon war with Spain—regardless of the probable involvement with England and France, and of the certain and immense injury which a state of war will inflict upon our mercantile and shipbuilding interests, now so prosperous, and indeed upon all other industrial interests of the country. The plain, unmistakable policy of the United States, in the present juncture of European affairs, is peace with all the world—for in that position, our merchants and ship owners will command the commerce of the world. Neither national honor nor national interest demands that the present difficulties with Spain should be pushed to the point of actual hostilities. Reasonable indemnity will without doubt be offered by the Court of Madrid, for the unjust proceedings of the custom-house officials, in the Black Warrior affair; but it is not probable that the extreme demands said to have been made by our government will be complied with—especially as they are made by a Minister exceedingly obnoxious to the Spanish people and government, and in a tone as peremptory and offensive as possible. Among the demands made it is said, are an indemnity of $300,000 (for it varies as it do not appear to have reached a tenth of that sum,) the immediate removal of the Captain General of Cuba, and an entire change of the administrative system of the island, so far as regards its intercourse with other nations. A change in this last respect, to an extent which would impose greater responsibility upon the local government of Cuba, and invest it with greater direct power for the redress of grievances, is much to be desired by our people who have commercial transactions with Cuba, and by our government which is bound to protect the rights of that commerce; but the judgment of the world would hardly bear us out in making a refusal of this by Spain a cause of war, or an excuse for reprisals. Under the laws of nations, Spain has an unquestioned right to determine the amount and extent of powers and responsibilities with which she will invest the Governors of her colonies; and we have no right to dictate her policy in this respect—provided only that she holds herself responsible for their acts, and makes reasonable indemnity for the wrongs committed by them, so far as much promptitude as the nature of the case will allow. We should hardly venture, for instance, to demand of England that all difficulties with her local officers in Australia should be settled on the spot where they occur—and all outrages be atoned for by them without reference to the decision of the Home Government. Such a demand in the case of England would be deemed preposterous; and yet it is something approaching this that our administration has demanded of Spain, and upon the refusal of which, President Pierce and his Cabinet are apparently willing to engage in war.

The Spanish government is not likely to yield all that is demanded—especially as it hopes to be supported in the possession of Cuba, by England and France—an expectation, by the way, which we think not altogether certain to be realized. President Pierce and his advisers indeed, scarcely expected that the demands upon Spain would be complied with; nor do we believe that they are entirely desired it. A complication of matters which shall result in war and the annexation of Cuba is apparently aimed at—both for the purpose of glorifying the administration by foreign conquest, and of diverting public attention at the north from its course upon the Nebraska bill. To this end, the Cabinet at Washington is doing nothing to inflame the public mind against Spain, to a point at which war will become popular; and the same course has apparently been adopted that was taken in the case of Mexico. All the insults and injuries—real or fancied—which our flag or our commerce had received from Spanish officials during the last thirty years, have been collated—to be presented to Congress and the country in one batch, accompanied by a regular war message from the President. The correspondent of the Tribune, in a letter written a few weeks since, remarked:

"The whole clerical force of the State Department has been engaged day and night in copying the correspondence relative to the alleged outrages by the Spanish authorities on the commerce and citizens of the United States, in answer to the call of Mr Phillips of Alabama. The correspondence is tremendously voluminous, filling reams of paper."

And, the correspondent of the Boston Post added:

"The inventory of affronts communicated to the Senate indicates clearly enough that the doctrine of indemnity for the past is to be extended back for thirty-five years, and he demand of security for the future will be carried forward to the annexation of Cuba, which, like the cession of Florida, will at once end all our grievances, and establish a state of peace and concord between the two countries and our young republic, which will not be disturbed until our manifest destiny shall receive the absorption of Porto Rico and the Philippines."

Upon the subject of Cuba and the Spanish relations, the Boston Atlas recently made the statement as follows:

"Nothing is more obvious than that the administration seek an opportunity to quarrel with Spain, in the hope that they may have some pretext for seizing the island of Cuba.—Every act is resorted to, to disturb the peaceful relations between the two countries. Secret emissaries are said to be on the island, sent out by the President to bring about such an event. We have seen a letter from Cuba stating that a gentleman calling himself Charles W. Davis, who represents that he served in the Mexican war under General Taylor, is now in Cuba; and that it has been ascertained that he is there on a secret mission from our government. He has been heard to say that our government will have a quarrel with Spain if possible; that the south are determined to have Cuba, and he should not be surprised if war should be declared with Spain within three months. He acknowledged that they had no sympathy with the Creoles, but wished to prevent the abolition of slavery there."

This Mr. Davis is a stockholder, and is represented, as a demagogue and wire puller, and has more than suggested, that in case of success, he should expect some place under the government. From what we know of the administration, we have no doubt that the above is substantially correct; and that the administration are determined to make the most they can out of the Black Warrior affair."

More recently we have still another demonstration, in Mr. Slidell's resolution and speech proposing that the President shall be invested (during the recess of Congress) with the power of suspending the neutrality laws; in other words, of withdrawing all restrictions upon the filibusters, or thus involving the country in war on the part of secession of a Cuban revolt.

Now, aside from any personal opposition to the administration, or any general regard for peace principles, we are particularly opposed at this time to a course which will unnecessarily involve us in war. We would maintain peace at almost any sacrifice, except that of national integrity and honor—for with peace, the commerce the manufactures and the agriculture of this country will flourish during the protracted European war now commenced, in a manner unexampled in the history of nations. But if we ourselves become involved—as a Spanish war would surely involve us—the injury to all our business relations would be proportionally great.

If the nations honor, or the safety of our commerce, really demand that Spain should be chastised at this time, the industrial interests of the country would cheerfully obey the call of patriotism, and submit to the injury which a state of war would inevitably inflict. But nobody believes the sacrifice to be necessary or called for by any national emergency. If the administration pushes the difficulties with Spain to a point where war is unavoidable, it will be, as we think, from motives of personal or political advantage—from fear of the demands of patriotism—and the people will rebuke that administration and the party which sustains it—as they did in the case of the Mexican war. If Cuba must be acquired, fairly and without war, there are many northern men—especially those who are looking to its great capabilities for commerce—who will welcome it even as a slave State—but they do not desire it at the risk of war, in the present condition of European matters. As a slave State—strengthening the influence and power of slavery in this country—we do not desire the annexation of Cuba; but if come it must, as slavery, we hope it will come peaceably—and while rejoicing in the added facilities and profits it will yield to our commerce, we shall hope that Providence may overrule the event even to the ultimate good of the colored race.

New Publications.

A Defence of the "Eclaircissement." By its Author; being a rejoinder to Professor Newman's "Reply." Also, the "Reply" to "The Eclipse of Faith," by Francis William Newman, together with a Chapter on "The Moral Perception of Jesus" appropriated from the third edition of "Phases of Faith." Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. 1854.

We have here a substantial and handsomely bound volume of over two hundred pages, the contents of which, as will be readily seen by referring to the titles, are of much interest in the theological world. The ability displayed in this discussion and victory zealously sought and perhaps fairly won, but of it we shall, of course, leave every reader to judge for himself, our duty having been performed in calling attention to the existence of the work and of informing our readers that it may be obtained at the bookstore of E. F. Duren, near the Post-office.

The Recreations of Christopher North.—Complete in one volume. Boston: Phillips, Sampson & Co. 1854.

These enterprising publishers have thrown opportunely before the public a collection, choice and rare, of the literary works of Professor Wilson, in his fine Essays and Miscellanies, which have won for him an honorable and a world-wide name as a master of the literary art. The volume has large pages well packed, in double columns, the desire being to furnish the largest quantity at the smallest price.

This book may be obtained at E. F. Duren's Bookstore near the Post-office.

Women's Rights. A Convention has been called at Boston on the 2d prox. of all citizens of New England, "who believe in the right of laborers to control their own earnings—who believe in a fair day's wages for a fair day's work—in the equal right of all children to all public provisions for education—in the right of human beings to determine their own sphere of action—in the right of all to trial by a jury of their peers—that taxation without representation is tyranny—and in the right of adult American citizens to a vote in electing the government whose laws control them."

Abstractly, in great many people believe these things—as they understand them—and a convention of all such would be very large. But the rub is, that everybody don't include women in the category of 'people,' for the purposes above named. That women should enjoy more 'rights' than they do at present, we do not; however desirable; but the right of voting in elections, and some others enumerated, would not, we imagine, endure either to their own comfort and happiness or to the welfare of the community.

The Bible Question. The citizens of Winchester, Mass. have recently been exercised with the Bible question in their schools. The committee had taken action, on the demand of the Catholics, to exclude the bible as a reading book; whereupon the citizens held a meeting, and unanimously requested that the new rule be rescinded, and that the commonly received version of the Bible be required to be read daily. This question is becoming widely agitated in this country, by the Catholics (doubtless as we think) seeking to exclude the usual version of the bible. Protestants will never consent that it shall be thus driven out; and the inevitable effort of the attempt to do so, or to divide the public school money, will be to inflame the public mind against the whole Catholic system and the assumptions of its Church government—and seriously to disturb the spirit of toleration hitherto so happily prevalent in this land of civil and religious liberty.

The British cruisers are pouncing upon Russian merchantmen in the most summary style, and one of them lately chased for half a day a Yankee who soundly ran up the Russian flag just to see how fast John Bull could sail. Boston is ahead of his more polished adversaries, in liberality and humanity towards non-combatants at least—for he has allowed the English and French vessels ample time to escape from the Russian ports of the Baltic and Black Seas—in the former case, until July 1st, and in the latter until June 1st.

The Nebraska Contest at Washington.

In reference to the glorious and successful stand made against the majority in the House, by the opponents of the Nebraska bill, on the 11th, 12th and 13th inst.—we have, in the last Kennebec Journal, the following extract of a private letter from our own representative in Congress:

"Our anti-Nebraska army has made a noble stand in the House. For thirty-six consecutive hours we held the players at bay in the most handsome and successful manner. But it cost a deal of labor and anxiety, and physical fatigue. From 8 o'clock, A. M., Thursday, to 2 o'clock, A. M., Saturday, I did not sleep a wink, or eat a regular meal. From the position which I was made to occupy, I was obliged to be on the qui vive nearly the whole time. We were the enemy out for the time, but shall have to return to the attack on Monday.—What the result will be, or how long it will take to arrive at it, it is impossible to tell. Our men are firm, and feel well. Giddings says that in all his experience he has never seen a struggle of the kind so handsomely sustained."

The letter from which the above is taken was written, as we know, without any expectation of its being published. There can be no carping, therefore, at the unguarded revelation of the fact that Mr. Washburn is relied upon in Congress, as a leader of great tact, ability and courage. His speeches, particularly that upon the Nebraska bill itself furnish sufficient evidence of this. We do not know, indeed, of a man in the House who, in all respects, occupies a more enviable position in the regards of his compeers—and this position he has reached solely by his native talent, his industry and zeal, his prudence, courage and honest worth. Penobscot may well be proud of him.

Disasters. Ship Wm. Layton, of New York from Antwerp, went ashore at Squam Inlet, 13th. She had 400 passengers.

Ship Montezuma, from Liverpool, with 400 passengers, was badly ashore at Rockaway.

The new ship Commonwealth, 1250 tons, owned by Nickerson & Co. of Boston, and others, went ashore in the fog, on Friday morning, on Newburyport bar. Insured for $75,000 in State Street.

Ashore in the Fog. Sch. President, from Cardenas for Portland, with molasses, went on to Block Island, Sunday last—old vessel—probably a total loss. Sch. Amazon, of Digby, N. S. went ashore at Mt. Desert Rock, Thursday last; total loss; crew saved. Sch. Lexington of Friendship, ashore on Peak's Island same day, went to pieces.

Mr. Sleeper, the veteran editor of the Boston Journal, has relinquished his connection, in consequence of failing health. He is succeeded by Mr. James A. Dix.

The Supreme Court of Maine has decided that no mechanic's lien upon a building, for labor or materials, will hold, unless he has contracted directly with the owner.

Ordination. Mr. James M. Palmer will be ordained to-morrow, 23d, at Kendall's Mills, as a minister of the gospel. Sermon by Prof. Shepard of this city.

Democratic State Convention in New Hampshire, June 15th.

Varieties.

Hospital for the Insane.—We learn that the Governor and Council have determined to put the new north wing, for female patients, under contract immediately.—Mr. Tucker of the Council to act as Commissioner, and Col. Henry Sawyer of Augusta as Superintendent of the building.

Damage at New Sharon.—About one hundred feet of the dam at New Sharon was carried away by the recent freshet.

Missing.—Mr. William Dunyan, of the firm of Stanley & Dunyan, at Calais, has been missing for some days. He had several hundred dollars with him, when last seen.

The State Bank, at Augusta, has been organized —George W. Stanley, President; Wm. R. Smith, Cashier. Capital $75,000.

Acquitted—Mrs. Hayes, lately on trial at New York for the murder of Dr. Latenor.

Ken. & Portland R. R.—Receipts for April $17,000, against $12,000 for the corresponding month last year.

An Even Bet.—A New Hampshire editor offers to bet his head against a sixpence, on the Nebraska Bill; whereupon a brother editor accepts the bet—says he considers it an even one—and wants to know where to hold the stakes.

Fallacy of an old axiom—To say, "the different as chalk is from cheese." When we consider (says the Boston Post,) that cheese is made from milk, and milk is made from chalk, there is not such a great difference, after all.

Beautiful Extract—Helping a young woman on of a mud-puddle.

An Ohio paper says they have a man in their Legislature who may be implicitly trusted with any secret—for nobody will believe a word he says, anyhow.

A collector of curious statistics has discovered that tall men live longer than short ones. Who ever doubted it?

A very independent order of "One-Nothings" has been organized out west, and the editors of that region are earnestly recommending it to public favor.

Nothing sets so wide a mark between a vulgar and a noble soul, as the respect and reverential love of woman-kind. A man who is always sneering at woman is generally a coarse prodigate or a coarse bigot.

We have always found, says a profound American writer, that blacksmiths are more or less given to vice, and that carpenters, for the most part, although they speak fairly, will chisel when they get a chance; not unfrequently the latter are great bores; and often annoy one with bad saws.

The famous Cathedral of Antwerp has a tower 466 feet in height—the upper gallery being reached by the ascent of 622 steps. At this immense height is placed a chime of ninety-nine bells, whose music, of a calm evening, floats over the city like symphonies from the skies.

An Old One.—The oldest inhabitant left is judged to be Mary Murray of Red Cave, Virginia, who claims to have weathered the cares of 140 years.

Capt. Donovan, formerly pilot of the steamer Boston, and latterly of the Daniel Webster, takes command of the Ocean, on the Kennebec route, this season. So says the Mercury.

Mr. James Wade, employed upon the Penobscot and Kennebec Railroad at Clinton, was sadly mutilated last week by the explosion of a keg of powder, and his recovery is doubtful. He was pouring some powder from the keg, upon a match supposed to be extinguished.

The Mercury learns that Elden Ralph Decker of Brighton, was drowned on the 2d, in Thorn Brook, Kingsbury, by being thrown from a jam of logs, while engaged in driving for Allen Smith.

A new post-office has been established at North Edmeborough, and Ephraim Coombs appointed postmaster.

Beauties of the Foreign News.

We are indebted to Mr. Cushing, Clerk of the Daniel Webster, for Boston papers in advance of the mail, by which we have a few items of the Europa's news, in addition to those given in our telegraphic despatch of Saturday.

In regard to the great battle, we learn that it took place between Silistria and Rassova, near the line of Trajan's Wall.

During the previous night Omar had sent a division towards Sed, which division, during the height of the battle, attacked the Russians in the rear, causing tremendous confusion.

The Russians retreated behind Czernavoda with loss of many guns, stores, baggage and military chests.

The Russians continued the attack on Silistria on the 20th. The Turks crossed the Danube to convey the Russian batteries, the Russians having advanced to Kalerson, and after hard fighting retired.

Paskewitch has ordered the Russians to advance no further into the Dobrudscha.

An important battle was fought on the 26th, between the Turks and Greek insurgents. Nolia was taken by the Turks by assault, in fifty minutes. The Greek leaders, Karaiskak and Leavellas fled.

The important town of Melczo, has also been taken by the Turks, and was afterwards pillaged by Albanians. The Greek leader, Grivas fled.

On the 19th, a battle ensued between the Turks and Montenegrins at Neschio. The Montenegrins were commanded by George Petrovitch. Hostilities have fairly commenced. It is reported that Austria will occupy the provinces.

Sir Charles Napier is closely blockading all the Baltic ports.

Russia is fitting out a fleet against this, of 800 armed boats.

Detailed accounts of the bombardment of Odessa state that all the batteries and military stores were destroyed, two powder magazines blown up, twelve Russian ships-of-war sunk, also thirteen vessels, laden with ammunition.

Merchant vessels were unmolested. Loss of allies only five killed and six wounded. The allied fleet had left for Sebastopol.

A telegraphic despatch was received at Paris announcing a victory by the Turks, and that Omar Pasha had succeeded in cutting in two the Russian army in the Dobrudscha.

The House then went into Committee on the Nebraska bill.

Mr Bayliss of Massachusetts proceeded to address the House in opposition to the bill, and against the repeal of the Missouri compromise.

Mr Miller of Mississippi followed, in favor of the bill.

Mr Barker of Indiana, and Peck of New York, both followed in opposition to the bill.

Holloway's Pills.—Among all the idle medicaments of the day, the name of which fill the columns of our newspapers, we would not include Holloway's Pills, extensively used here and in Europe, for their curative properties. A remarkable instance has taught us that their reputation is not all puffery, but a solid substantial one, based upon a long and real experience among the lowest poor, and confirmed in the discerning. They seem to act with the same promptness and efficacy in all climates, and in every part of the civilized globe, and in every case to which they are adapted to with grateful enthusiasm, their oils or portions of its capacity and virtues. They are not merely the quack remedy for a special complaint, but are reparatives, and cure by removing from the system elements of disease, whose existence is acting in an extraordinary manner in the all diseases to which human nature is subject.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office till the twentieth day of June next, for furnishing materials, and constructing the masonry, for the Mattawamkeag Bridge.

Persons proposing to build will state the price demanded per cubic yard.

The contractor will be required to remove the old piers and abutments, and to furnish materials and construct necessary bands to sustain the bridge in a proper manner while taking down the old and building the new piers and abutments, and he will also be required to place (in a suitable manner) the bridge upon the new piers and abutments as soon as they shall have been completed.

Separate proposals will also be received for furnishing materials for, and constructing the bank walls, and the abutments for small bridge. This work to be of a good kind of culvert masonry.

More particular information may be obtained by an examination of the plans, &c., in the Land Office.

Disgraceful Riot.

Yesterday afternoon our city was the scene of one of the most disgraceful riots that has occurred here for several years. The particulars, as far as we can ascertain them, are as follows:

An intoxicated man was making a disturbance upon the Steamer Penobscot's wharf, and Deputy Marshs. Pratt and Police Officer Amsden were called upon to arrest him. The man was arrested, but while conveying him to the watch house the officers were assaulted by an Irishman named Haggerty, who was assisted by several others of a similar character, and in the melee that ensued both of the officers were struck with stones or clubs, and severely injured. Officer Pratt had the bones of his face badly broken, and Mr. Amsden received bad wounds upon his head. Haggerty was secreted by his friends, and has not yet been taken.

The police force in this city is well organized and efficient, and we trust that the rioters will be identified and made to suffer the extreme penalty of the law.

CONGRESS.—Another Night Session. The debate on the Nebraska bill in the House, was in full blast up to the last accounts—Friday night at 11 o'clock. Bocock had made a rather speech in which he went into the Gadsden Treaty, and the political schemes of the administration, in a scorching manner. Morrison of New Hampshire (dem.) also spoke against the Nebraska bill.

Later. By Boston Evening papers of Saturday, we learn that the Nebraska bill was debated in committee of the whole in the House, till 12½ o'clock, Saturday morning, when the committee took a recess until nine o'clock, at which time only 20 members were in their seats.

By a second despatch, we learn that several members spoke on the bill, and when the hour of 12 o'clock, noon the time for closing the debate had arrived, permission to print speeches was given to all gentlemen who had not succeeded in obtaining the floor. Mr. Richardson of Illinois, then commenced his closing speech in favor of the bill. When he had finished, Mr. Dean moved that the committee rise. Negatived—92 to 62. The first section of the bill was read, when Mr Edgerton moved an amendment substituting the bill heretofore passed by the House, which does not repeal the Missouri compromise. This was at 3 o'clock, P. M.

The steamer Boston which left Boston Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, arrived here yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. By her we are indebted to Messrs. Bryant & Manning's Express for copies of Boston Evening papers of Saturday.

ARRIVAL AT PORTLAND. Steamship Ottawa, from Liverpool, April 25th, for Quebec, arrived at Portland on Friday evening last, having been unable to enter the St. Lawrence, on account of the ice. She had 130 passengers, and a full freight. She left Seguin all day, on Friday, on account of the dense fog.

The Boston mail of Saturday morning, due Sunday morning, had not arrived as late as last evening.

HONORED RESIGNATION OF MR. EVERETT. A telegraphic despatch to the New York papers, from Boston, says that the Hon. Edward Everett, in consequence of ill-health, has resigned his seat in the United States de-Senate—the resignation to take effect in June next.—The same authority states that Hon Rufus Choate has resigned the Attorney General ship, and Hon John H. Clifford has been recalled to the position. It is rumored that Gov. Washburn has tendered Mr Everett's place to Mr Choate—Boston Journal, 20th

A COLOURED MAN ARRESTED AND RESCUED. Cincinnati, May 19. A colored man named James Worthington, was arrested at Akron, yesterday under pretence of a charge for counterfeiting. The citizens soon learned that he was in reality arrested as a fugitive slave, and that it was the intention of the captors to carry him off. A great commotion was the consequence, and the citizens turned out en masse and rescued him. Further trouble is apprehended.

THE UNITED STATES SENATORS ELECTED.—The Connecticut Legislature yesterday elected Mr Gilbert, (freesoiler) Senator for the short term in place of Mr Smith, (whig) resigned; and Mr Foster, (whig) for the long term. Mr. Gilbert received just enough votes to elect him, Mr Foster had a large majority.—Boston Traveller, 20th.

THE 'GRAPE-SHOT' New York, May 20. A passenger who arrived in the Crescent City yesterday, reports having seen the barque "Grape-shot" riding at anchor off the Balize on the 9th inst. Also reports having seen Capt. Baxter of the city previous to the sailing of the steamer

KENNEDY'S

Dandelion Cough Syrup

The Greatest of the Age!

MR. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures DR. RICHARD'S HUMOR, from the worst form down to a common Pimple. He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and has never failed in a single instance. He has now in his possession over two hundred and first certificates of cures within twelve miles of Boston.

Two Bottles are warranted to cure any case of Salt Rheum.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Scrofula.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Ringworm.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the skin.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humors in the eyes.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure running tetter.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Blotches on the face.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ring worm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most distressing case of rheumatism.

Three to six bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Four to eight bottles will cure the worst case of Scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing in books so admirable to those who have an humor in the system of the day as but a chain on weed, growing upon the pastures, will destroy old or new sores, cure scaly eruptions on the skin, relieve the most distressing case of rheumatism in the shortest possible time. If you have a cough, hoarseness, bronchitis, difficult breathing, pain in the side, or any disease of the throat and lungs, you should at once procure a bottle of this valuable medicine. It has been tried over a thousand times, and has never failed in a single instance. It has been used in the most distressing cases of Consumption, and has never failed to relieve the patient in twenty-four hours after the first dose was taken. It has already become a household word in thousands of families, and is pronounced by all who have used it to be the greatest cure ever done in Massachusetts. It is given to children a year old to old persons of sixty, and has soon put healthy looking children who were sick and feeble, restored the perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives immediate relief in the worst cases of headache in from fifteen minutes to half an hour. Some who have taken it have been costive for years, and have been regular only by the use of cathartic medicines, which only relieve, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very direct relief, and you may not be alarmed—the bowels always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it—on the contrary, when the feeling is gone, you will feel, yourself, like a new person. I heard one of the most distinguished physicians of the city of Lowell say, that he considered it the best medicine ever introduced to the public, and that he should use it in his practice in preference to any other, as it was certain to effect a cure in all cases, and was perfectly safe.

Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5.

Prepared and sold by the Proprietor, DR. KENNEDY, Roxbury, Mass.

Sold by Druggists throughout the United States, Canada and the British Provinces, and by dealers in Medicine everywhere.

Certificates of Cures can be seen at the office of the Proprietor.

S. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents

During the time I occupied the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity who had so much business before the Patent Office as Mr. Eddy, none who conducted it with more ability and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their patent on as full and secure footing as early and favorable consideration as it is entitled to.

TESTIMONIALS

The following certificate from Dr John C. Warren, of Boston was given 17 years since, but will not forever.

Boston Jan 5 1853

Having had occasion to observe that some persons afflicted with Hernia have suffered much from the want of a skilful mechanic in the immediate vicinity of this metropolis to attend to their cases, I have been induced to interest myself in the company of Mr J. F. Foster to supply the deficiency occasioned by the death of Mr Heath.—After some months of observation of his skill I am well satisfied that Mr Foster is well acquainted with the methods of treating these cases, and regard him as deserving to be the patronized by those who may need the services of a skilful mechanic in this line. I therefore recommend him to my friends and the public as a person well fitted to perform the duties he undertakes to do, to the entire satisfaction of those who employ him in regard to the competency of his services.

JOHN C. WARREN M. D.

The undersigned take great pleasure in recommending to the favor of invalids the use of the new and valuable Truss of Mr. Foster. Having had occasion to employ Mr. Foster in the manufacture of a Truss for a child of ours, which proved to be the most effective and comfortable one we have ever had, and which we have used for the space of two years, we feel confident that we can safely recommend him to any of our friends who may be in want of a Truss, as a person well fitted to perform the duties he undertakes to do, to the entire satisfaction of those who employ him.

JOHN G
